'Twill cure your cold—Ammen's Cough Syrup.

Many Druggists recommend and try to sell which pays them the largest profit. Do not be deceived, ask for Ammen's Cough Syrup. Take no other. The remedy stands on its own merits. You can buy a sample bottle for 15 cents, and test it yourself. Larger bottles at 50 cents and $1. Ask to see larger size and read the wrapper.

For cough or cold there is no remedy equal to Ammen's Cough Syrup.

We think it unnecessary to go to a doctor and pay him to prescribe for a common cold. At the same time it is of the utmost importance to pay attention to it and get relief—or evil consequences may follow. We use Ammen's Cough Syrup. It has never failed yet to do all that is claimed for it, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our readers. If you have not tried this medicine, go to your druggist and ask to see a large bottle, and read the label.

On or about the 25th of last month came to Wood Ranch, a mile west of Carson, in King's Canyon, a gray mare. The owner can have the same by proving property and paying costs. n12-2w

IN BRIEF.

Taxes are being paid in very freely. George Gillson, of Bodie, is in the city.

It is reported that Mrs. Senator Jones is quite ill in San Francisco.

There will be turkey shooting at Swift's Springs to-morrow.

The lowest figure touched by Sierra Nevada yesterday was $11 1/2.

Frank M. Robb, of Glenbrook, died in San Francisco a few days since.

Bodie stocks appear to have lost their back bone, judging from the quotations.

Preparations are being made at Glenbrook for a general closing down for the season.

Detective James Hume, who has been in the city for several days, went below last night.

Ex-Senator Sharon has been lying very ill in San Francisco, but is now convalescent.

It is currently reported that Lyman Frisbie has gone to Boston, Mass., to get married.

It is reported that there will soon be a teacher's vacancy in the public school department of this city.

John Scott, Superintendent of the Lyon Mill & Mining Company, Dayton, was in the city yesterday.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer stood at zero. It was the coldest morning of the season.

"Alvin Joslin" took in more money in one night here than Sheridan did in two. A sad commentary on taste.

The prevailing cold weather is keeping the customary sidewalk promenaders of both sexes in doors.

It is reported that the coronation of the Czar of Russia will take place in February next—that is, if the Nihilists are willing.

The wife of Lucky Baldwin died in San Francisco on the 16th instant, of quick consumption. Lucky is a free man again.

Several dogs were frozen to death in this city on Thursday night, a fact which indicates a very low thermometer.

Senator Jones, after all, did not go to San Francisco on Thursday night. He was detained, it is said, by the illness of his mother.

U. S. Marshal Ash safely delivered the mail robber, John Maguire, convicted in this city, to the authorities at San Quentin, Cal.

A. S. Gould, formerly Superintendent of the North Carson mine, and lately Superintendent of the Day mine, at Pioche, is going to locate at San Francisco.

The comet discovered here by officer Duncan a few nights ago, has also been seen in the East, if the dispatches are to be believed. This is the second comet that Duncan found this year.

Guns! Guns! Muzzle loaders, breech loaders, all kinds all styles. Big bargains in them at the square dealing house of Uncle Harris, 221 Kearny, between Bush and Sutter streets, San Francisco.

The next thing to divert our minds from the dull routine of a monotonous existence will be heavy Thanksgiving dinners. They may give many food for painful reflection for weeks before being digested.

An impecunious, but proud spirited Frenchman, cabining in the vicinity of the Western Hotel, has been imposing an involuntary fast upon himself for some days, which may cost him his life.

In the District Court yesterday in the matter of Mrs. A. L. Welch vs. Mary A. Kennedy, the motion to dismiss the appeal from the Justices Court was argued and denied, and the trial of the cause set for November 30, 1881.

Never since Carson was incorporated was there so little business done in the Police Court as at present. Even the trial of a poor drunk is a rarity before that tribunal now adays.

Charles L. Davis (Alvin Joslin) says that he never permits any of his people to stop at second-class hotels. He believes in a first-class style of advertising even if he does not run a first-class show.

SENATOR JONES INTERVIEWED.

what He Thinks of Arthur and Conkling, and of the Comstock's Future.

The Chronicle of last evening says:

Senator Jones was on the Comstock today and stood an ordeal of handshaking which spoke volumes for his good nature as well as for the general esteem in which he is held at home. He appears in excellent health and spirits. In the course of an interview had with him by a reporter, Senator Jones, in answer to inquiries, said: "President Arthur's administration will be marked by firmness, wisdom and a careful interpretation of law, aside from any personal prejudices. I do not believe that a change is likely to be made in the New York Collectors, at least for the present. The President will carry out the tenure-of-office law strictly, which provides that changes shall not be made unless charges of incapacity are fully proven. President Arthur's vindication of his own record as Collector of the Port of New York is complete in every particular and a significant commentary on the injustice and inconsistency of Mr. Hayes. The removal of Collector Merritt is a further proof of the insincerity of Hayes. Merritt had been in but two years. It was given as an excuse that he tendered his resignation in order to accept the office of Consul-General to London, but I happen to know that he did not desire the change and did not want to leave New York. "Do you consider Conkling as politically dead?" "By no means. His action in resigning the Senatorship was perhaps the mistake of his life, yet he believed he was right in so doing. He is a very peculiar man in some respects. He is a statesman of great ability, force and purity of character. His integrity is absolutely unimpeachable. He will never be popular with the masses for he will not truckle to popular prejudices. If he does not like a man and is told that he once served a term in the State Prison, he will say: "I believe it, and will bet on it." If he likes a man he is equally strong in his support, no matter what is brought against him. The public career of Conkling is by no means at an end."

AS TO THE COMSTOCK.

"Have you hopes of the future of the Comstock?"

"Most decidedly. I have as great hope now as ever, and greater. Why, look at the situation. Count on your fingers the insignificant number of drifts in the north-end mines during the past five years and then consider what an immense field remains for exploration. The mines are in much better condition to-day for effective working than they ever were. I am as certain that bonanzas will be found as I am sure of anything likely to happen in the future."

"Will you remain long on the coast?"

"About two weeks. I am going to start for San Francisco to-night, and will return with my family within three or four days, when I hope to meet all of my friends here. I may not be able to be in Washington at the commencement of the Senatorial session on December 5th, but, if not, will arrive there within a few days after."

Sweetheart and Phil Thompson.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Charles H. Raymond, owner of the great Kentucky three-year-old trotting colt Phil Thompson, called recently at the office of the Turf, Field and Farm in relation to the challenge to match his colt against John W. Mackay's California colt, Sweetheart. Raymond says he does not think it necessary or wise to put up $5,000 forfeit now, for it would in effect only amount to a bet of that sum that no accident would happen to his colt during the winter. If the colt is in good health in April or May he will match him with Sweetheart, and would like the stakes to be $10,000 on each trot, to take place at Chicago, and he allowing Mackay $1,000 for expenses in taking Sweetheart to that city. In order to make the racing interesting and decisive, he would not object to other colts than three-year-olds coming into the match. As Mackay is a wealthy gentleman, the gate money can be of little consequence to him, and therefore proposes that the winner shall take all the stakes and gate money, and thus preclude the idea that the horses are hippodroming for receipts.

U. S. Circuit Court Rule.

Rule No. 49 of the U. S. Circuit Court in this city, was changed to read as follows, and to take effect and be in force from and after the 27th instant:

In all cases in which a party shall appear in person, who is not an attorney, solicitor or proctor of this Court; or is a non-resident of this district; or who appears by an attorney, solicitor or proctor, who is a non-resident of this district, he shall indorse on his appearance, or his first pleading filed, a designation of the place within the city of Carson, where notices are to be served on him; and if he does not do so, a filing of any notice or paper in the case in the clerk's office with the papers in the case, shall be sufficient service.

American ladies can hold up their heads with a nobler pride—Colonel Steuben of the German visitors says he greatly admires American beauty, and pronounces it more striking than in any country he has ever journeyed. He expresses his astonishment at what he has seen here, and says that he never imagined that "the people of this country were so highly developed." He finds fault with our educational system, contending that we neglect scientific studies too much, but admits that average intelligence here is greater "than anywhere in Europe." He considers us too extravagant, and looks upon our military system as deficient.

The ladies of the Library were obliged to postpone the party which was to have taken place last evening, owing to the non-appearance of the violinist who has been regularly engaged for these parties. They will give the party next Monday evening, however, if music can be secured. Due notice will be given.

Mrs. Alt will be here to-day to give her weekly dancing lessons. The hours between 1 and 4 o'clock P. M. will be devoted to the ladies and children, and the evening to adults of both sexes. Mrs. Alt has been very successful with her method of teaching and gives the most decided satisfaction.

A Murder at Woodland.

WOODLAND, Cal., Nov. 18.—At 1 o'clock this morning a gambler known as "Boeie Smith," shot, and, it is thought, mortally wounded W. L. Patterson in a house of ill-fame. Smith secured a horse and made his escape. The officers are in pursuit. The men had no quarrel, and it is said Smith intended to shoot a girl instead of Patterson.

A Fearful Ride.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 18.—A snow-slide took place at Alta City yesterday. One man was carried 800 feet and escaped uninjured.
